Amira Pollock

Credentials and Experience

Amira Pollock specializes in creating interactive programming for educational purposes and is a sought-after instructor who makes her classes engaging, practical and impactful. In addition to teaching public and onsite courses for the Center for Professional Education at The University of Texas at Austin, Pollock is a leadership coach and frequent speaker for MBA students at the McCombs School of Business. She recently created and taught a highly-rated undergraduate honors seminar “Improvisation Foundations for the Science Student” for the College of Natural Sciences. Pollock has spoken at conferences as an expert in her field, most notably returning to SXSW for the fourth consecutive year.

Pollock earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Rice University and a Master of Fine Arts degree in Theatre Education from The University of Texas at Austin.
